Our Professional Development programming allows you to hear from industry experts and exchange ideas and experiences with other like-minded teachers. The Global Classroom is an innovative educational space that removes the typical barriers of a four-walled classroom and puts social justice learning in the hands of students from around the world. Students lead their learning through discussion with thought-leaders, affected communities, and influencers. Through the use of Teams Live Stream technology, students and educators are connected for an engaging learning opportunity focused on a relevant and timely social issue.
